PRACTICAL ARRANGEMENTS

The local Friends have arranged for a minibus to pick people up from, and return them to, Huntingdon Station. Please do let us know on the proforma whether you want such a lift (and tea). For those driving there is parking at the Village Hall but we suggest that people park near the church itself for Evensong and then drive back to the Village Hall. There is an extract from Google Earth on www.woodwwalton.org.uk to give you directions and more information will be supplied to those coming. For those making the journey by car do use the morning to visit our nearby vestings at CALDECOTE and PAPWORTH ST AGNES.

We will supply further information on those – let us know on the form.

THE VENUE

St Andrew's is seen on a daily basis by more people than any other of our churches – for the very simple reason that it sits in splendid isolation in its own churchyard in a substantial field overlooked by the East Coast mainline from London to Edinburgh. Curiosity is stirred in many a traveller – and one, Andrew Barr, left the train to hunt it down, devoting a chapter on it in “The Nation's Favourite Churches” published on behalf of “Songs of Praise” in 2006. St Andrew's is also one of our greatest challenges – we have carried out a great deal of consolidation and have spent something like £150,000 since we accepted vesting in 1979. The latest round of external repointing was finished earlier this year and we tackled the top of the tower the year before. And yet you will find a chancel (c.1330, reconstructed 1859 by Edward Browning, of Stamford) where there is still visible cracking. We are monitoring that movement and can only act once we know that that has settled. The whole of the tower and substantial areas of the exterior are the (sensitive) work of Browning and the builder, John Wilson of Grantham but the interior that will greet you is very largely medieval – especially in the two arcades, that to the south being mostly 13th century, that to the north with the distinct feel of the Perpendicular, as in the carved shields hanging as if from ribbons around the capitals. The best monuments are those in the chancel to the Hussey family, the local squires. Renowned 14th century glass from the church showing St Lawrence and St Catherine, he with his gridiron, she with her wheel, are now on permanent loan at the Stained Glass Museum at Ely.

We could not have done what we have done without the enthusiasm and dynamism of the local group of Friends, who raise interest through their website and newsletter, and substantial sums through their fundraising. You will see the result of their endeavours in myriad ways – the new screen to the tower, the new but faithful hinges to the doors, the bench in the churchyard. Theirs also will be the scrumptious tea in the Village Hall. There are the heroes and heroines of the story. They are also to be our protectors for the day – they will be guiding you away from areas in need for repair – please always follow their guidance
